MAINE'S HIDDEN TREASURES

October 4 - 10, 2026

Amazing Maine

Maine is a destination in itself - filled with hidden treasures, warm welcoming people, and amazing natural attractions. It has agriculture. However, it also has aquaculture with the harvesting of its bays and the Atlantic Ocean of lobsters, crabs, and other aquatic creatures.

It has the second-most number of lighthouses in the U.S., the highest mountain on the Eastern seaboard north of Rio de Janeiro, and a rock bound coast defying imagination.

Autumn holds special attractions as the state famous for its lumber industry has its trees create multi-colored palates across the rolling countryside. At the same time, fields of wild blueberries, turn crimson as the low-lying and spreading plants have their leaves blushing the meandering fields.

Acadia National Park located mostly on Mt. Desert Island is one of our nation's most-visited of all National Parks. In autumn, colorful foliage appears for miles, continuing out of sight. In the early 1900's J.D. Rockefeller commissioned a network of roads throughout the park - the famous Carriage Roads - that remain off-limits for motorized vehicles.

And, there's so much more. It's all waiting for you to experience and add to your bank of travel memories to share and never be forgotten! With the protections available for you on this tour now is the time to act.

To assure maximum quality and in-depth experiences group size will vary from 12 to no more than 24.
