Scotty's Castle

Death Valley
February 28 – March 4, 2010
$729.00 per person double occupancy
$260.00 single supplement

We are on our way to visit Death Valley National Park – the largest American National Park outside of Alaska and the lowest (282 ft. below sea level) point in the Western Hemisphere. With the park, you will find some of the most surreal landscapes on the globe...including sinuous sand dunes that ripple into the horizon, shimmering white salt flats, intricately contoured badlands riddled by rushing water, striking copper-colored canyon walls, and even a massive hydrovolcanic blast crater! You can enjoy all these sights from the window of your bus. We will see Scotty's Castle, one of the park's most popular destinations, as well as the Artist's Palette, Badwater Basin, Devil's Golf Course and Dante's View plus more. On the return we will tour the Museum of Armament & Technology at China Lake and then the next day we will include tours at Edwards Air Force Base – the NASA Dryden Flight Research Center Tour as well as the Air Force Flight Test Center tour. Because we will be coming and going to military secured area, we will need to compile a list of everyone's name, identification, date of birth, place of birth & Country of Citizenship! Edwards Air Base is the only US Test Pilot School and it is where the space shuttles return and they suggest we watch "The Right Stuff" to familiarize ourselves on the first half of the movie which was centered there!
